Excited states properties of nanocomposites and heterogeneous interfaces: first principles calculations

We will discuss the electronic structure properties of semiconductor nanocomposites and of semiconductor/water interfaces, as obtained using calculations based on many body perturbation theory.